FROM PETER C. ATKINS, CEO

An Exciting Time

These past few months have been very hectic for the staff, visitors and members of The Arboretum. Here are a few of the exciting things with which we have been involved.

Filming

In order to raise revenues to offset costs encumbered by operating expenses we have had a partnership with the film industry for many years. Our films go back to the original Tarzan movies, Bob Hope & Bing Crosby On The Road films, and recently Dave, Anaconda, Lost World, Little Nicky and Bedazzled. This relationship is a double-edged sword for us: on one hand we need the substantial revenue gains and on the other we want to maintain the pristine nature of The Arboretum and be true to our mission of education, amenity and research. Additionally, we must take into account the effect upon our neighbors and our general visitors. It is a very difficult balance at best, and unfortunately it has gotten away from the harmonious balance we had sought. In the future we will be much more stringent, discriminating and prudent about the details of our agreements and whom we allow to film on our grounds.

Long Range Plan

The C.A.F.'s Board of Trustees and our staff have been working diligently on developing a long range vision and plan for The Arboretum. We are almost complete with the initial phase. Thereafter we will coordinate efforts with the County's Parks and Recreation Planning Department, along with Los Vols and then we will seek community input. The plan includes such elements as a new Entrance/Visitors' Center, a Pollination Center, an Ethnobotanical Center, and a Plant Introduction Center. We are all very excited about what the future offers for The Arboretum, the community and its visitors.

Projects

We have been actively promoting The Arboretum through articles contributed to The Los Angeles Times' Kids' Reading Room, providing Arboretum educational and programmatic information to all communities within Los Angeles County, expanding our relationships with the corporate community, applying for and receiving specific grants, dedications of both The Sunset Magazine Demonstration Gardens and The Kallam Perennial Garden, as well as co-sponsoring many exciting events at The Arboretum.

This year's Annual Meeting will be in mid-June. It will cover the many changes that have occurred this past year, the many positive activities underway, announcements of various changes to the California Arboretum Foundation staff, voting in the new officers for the Board of Trustees, a financial report from the Finance Committee chairman and remarks from Los Angeles County officials and other dignitaries.

I heartily encourage all members to join us for this important event. There is certain to be good times, food and exciting discussions.

Monday through Friday: Opens at 9:00 AM; members may enter at 8:00 AM; rotunda closes at 6:30 PM; visitors must exit grounds by 7:00 PM.

Saturday and Sunday (regular hours): Opens at 9:00 AM; members may enter at 8:00 AM; rotunda closes at 4:30 PM; visitors must exit grounds by 5:00 PM.

Q: What does an 11-foot long Grasshopper...a 15-foot-tall Praying Mantis... and a Spider with a 15-foot Web Have in Common?

A: They are Bound for The Arboretum!

You won't miss them...or their friends, including three 25-foot ants, a dragon fly, ladybug, damselfly, assassin bug and a 24-foot bee with hive. All will be landing at The Arboretum in mid-August, and will rest throughout The Arboretum grounds until November 30.

The CAF is excited to bring David Rogers' renowned one of a kind "BIG BUGS" sculpture exhibit to the citizens of Los Angeles County. The sculptures were created using natural materials like bark, vines, whole trees, cut green saplings selectively harvested from the willow family, dry branches and other found forest materials. With the exception of wood preservatives used for protection from the elements, these sculptures are left in their natural state.

The "BIG BUGS" creator, New York Artist David Rogers, began creating Big Bugs in the fall of 1990 shortly after creating his first large-scale branch construction sculpture, a dinosaur called Goliath. His change over to insects was not huge but it was one that he felt was important.

"Insects play a vital role in a garden but usually go unnoticed," Rogers noted, "so I built them on such a large scale that you can't help but notice them." Rogers intentionally chose to feature mostly beneficial bugs—insects that are good for the garden, not harmful.

Roger's "BIG BUGS" exhibit has visited other gardens and attractions across the U.S., including The Dallas Arboretum, The New York Botanical Garden, Longwood Gardens in Philadelphia, Callaway Gardens in Georgia, The Epcot Center in Florida, The Chicago Botanical Garden and the Santa Barbara Botanical Garden.

In addition to the "BIG BUGS" exhibit, The Arboretum will also host a series of exciting events, educational programs and family activities throughout September, October and November including:

A Maize Maze: A unique combination of entertainment, agriculture and imagination, this attraction offers an amazing educational experience for school children, a natural walking path for seniors and fun for the entire family.

Incredible Insects: A series of educational workshops such as Insect activity and insect identification programs, Insect Safaris, Beehive demonstrations, Bug Fest weekend including, crafts, centipede race, 'ant' picnics, Big Bug photo contest and much much more.

Pumpkin Patch: The Arboretum's very own Pumpkin Patch along with a series of educational events for children, including pumpkin decorating and a parade revolving around the Patch during the month of October.

So get ready for the "BIG BUGS" at The Arboretum. These incredible insects will get us all going BUGGY!

TOUR & TASTE BEGINS JULY 6TH

Travelogue, Medieval Mysteries, Movies, Sunset Garden
Join the Fun

The 7th Annual "Tour & Taste Thursdays" series includes the popular Arboretum Travelogue and Murder in the Garden evenings along with two new programs—Movie Locations and an Inside view of the new Sunset Demonstration Gardens.

Each evening, the Tour & Talk begins at 6:00PM sharp. Taste and Dine starts at 7:15 PM, on the terrace of the Peacock Cafe. Reservations are essential. $35 per person or $125 per person for the complete series. Please call (626) 821-4624 to reserve your place for these exciting evening events.

Stephanie Georgieff, Murder in the Garden Host with Jill Berry, Education Program Manager for The Arboretum

THURSDAY, JULY 6
TRAM & TRAVELOGUE

This popular garden tram tour with Senior Tour Guide and naturalist Nelson Holmes provides an introduction to and overview of The Arboretum. You will travel from one continent to another as Nelson takes you on a journey through the gardens of Australia, North and South America, as well as the Asiatic, African and Mediterranean sections.

THURSDAY, JULY 20
MOVIE LOCATIONS

Join The Arboretum's historian Sandy Snider in a fascinating pictorial history of movie and television features filmed on location at The Arboretum. Johnny Weissmuller as Tarzan swung through the trees; Dorothy Lamour walked the "Road to Singapore" with Bob Hope and Bing Crosby along Baldwin Lake; James Earl Jones motored down the lake in search of the village of Kunta Kinte in television's Roots II; the Queen Anne Cottage has been better known to TV viewers as Ricardo Montalban's "Fantasy Island" home...the names go on and on. Sandy will show slides of various movies filmed here, and then we will board the tram to see those areas firsthand!

THURSDAY, AUGUST 10
MURDER IN THE GARDEN

Back by popular demand is Bardic Host and Herbalist, Stephanie Georgieff, to once again enlighten you with tales of Brother Cadfael in an evening of medieval mystery. Utilizing his experience in the Crusades, sharp wit and deep love of nature, Brother Cadfael solved murder mysteries by noting the herbs found in each case. This year's story is entitled "The Hermit of Egton Forest".

THURSDAY, AUGUST 24
SUNSET GARDENS

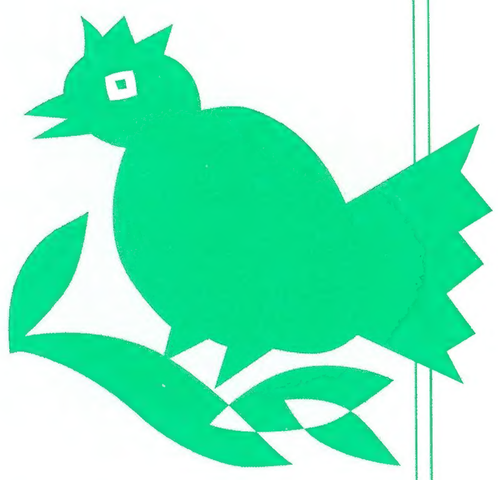

For more than 43 years, Sunset Magazine has maintained a demonstration garden at The Arboretum. Its purpose is to bring to life landscape design concepts, and to provide visitors with fresh ideas for everything from paving and fencing to water features. In 1998, the old garden was leveled to make way for a new one. This 1.5-acre space is divided into eight smaller gardens plus an education/demonstration area. Each garden presents a theme that translates to a broad range of residential situations. Nick Williams & Suzanne Manaugh, of Nick Williams & Associates, garden designers, are the creators of the dining and entertainment patio. Suzanne Manaugh will be your host discussing not only the Demonstration Garden as a whole, but the creative process used to formulate the concept for their garden.

Just for Kids

Calling All Young Naturalists

If you are between the ages of 7 and 13 be sure to join the fun. Instructor Connie Douglas will conduct two sessions of The Arboretum's Young Naturalist program this summer. Each session features 6 fun and exciting meetings. You'll learn about:

- Ecology and natural history
- Early California history at The Arboretum including the Gabrielino Indians and early settlers Hugo Reid and E.J. (Lucky) Baldwin
- Resident, visitor and migratory birds
- Native plants and their uses
- Native mammals of the San Gabriel Valley
- Why The Arboretum is so important to all of us

Meetings will be held both indoors and throughout the entire Arboretum grounds. Each class has a specific discussion topic and hand-outs to retain in a binder which will be compiled during the course. In addition, interesting guest speakers and "visiting" animals and insects will be included. Please call Jill Berry at (626) 821-4624 for further information and registration.

All meeting dates are on Saturdays: June 3, 10, 17, 24; July 1, 8. Session #1 is from 10:00 AM – 12:00 Noon. Session #2 is from 2:00 PM – 4:00 PM. $60 for the session (includes T-shirt)

DON'T MISS THIS GREAT EVENT

SEPTEMBER 30 - OCTOBER 1, 2000

GARDENING UNDER MEDITERRANEAN SKIES

Alessandra Vinciquerra, Garden Director of the American Academy in Rome, Italy headlines this unique Pacific Horticulture Symposium, co-sponsored by The Arboretum of Los Angeles County. Speakers from southern Europe and California will present their views on the garden opportunities and constraints offered by a summer-dry climate.

On two consecutive weekends, this unique symposium will take place in two California locations. On September 22 & 23, the symposium will take place at the Strybing Arboretum and Botanical Gardens in San Francisco. The following weekend, September 30 and October 1, the symposium will be held at The Arboretum of Los Angeles County.

The following symposium lecture topics are planned:

- What is Mediterranean?
- Contemporary Italian Gardens
- Plants from the Western Mediterranean
- Plant Introductions
- Lester Rowntree— California Native Plantsperson
- Planting California's Gardens
- Geophytes in a Mediterranean Garden

The cost for the two day symposium is $150 for subscribers/members and $175 for others before September 1, 2000. After September 1, the registration fee is $175 for subscribers/members and $200 for others.

In both venues, local nurseries will set up educational Mediterranean plant exhibits with sales being permitted on the last day of each symposium.

Reservations are a must. Call 626-821-4624.

FAMILY GARDENING SERIES

MAKE WEDNESDAY EVENINGS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Bring the whole family— Mom, Dad and, of course, the kids (ages 8-12 only) grandparents and grandchildren. Leigh Talmo, Instructor of The Arboretum's Roots & Shoots program, will show the entire family how to start a vegetable garden. Each family will have their very own plot in the Roots & Shoots garden.

Each class will be centered around a different event: Planting and Composting, A Worm Lesson, Plant a Garden in a Pot To Take Home With You, an Herb Lesson and creation of a tussie mussy. To wrap it all up, a Harvest Party will celebrate the results! And, best of all, you will learn how to take your newly acquired skills and knowledge home to your own garden.

Come and join the fun! July 5, 12, 19, 26 and August 2. 5:30 PM –7:30 PM. $60 / $75 non-members (includes two adults, two children; additional child - $15)

Jan Smithen, Shirley Kerins and Loni Brown celebrate the 10th Anniversary Celebration of the Grace V. Kallam Perennial Garden at The Arboretum on March 18.

A SPECIAL THANKS

A special thanks to those who participated in The Arboretum's 1st Japanese Iris Festival.

- Mitsuko Hamano—Origami Instructor
- Meher McArthur, Curator of East Asian Art, The Pacific Asia Museum
- Jeanne Clay Plank, Lecturer
- The Taiko Center of Los Angeles—Taiko Performance
- Ms. Bando Hidesomi's Dance Class—Classical Japanese Dancing
- Tea Ceremony
- Masakazu Yoshizawa and Tateo Takahashi—Shakuhachi and Shamisen Performances
- Ms. Yukiko Matsuyama-Koto Performance
- A special thanks to the East San Gabriel Valley Japanese Community Center Gakuen Japanese School for their participation in the re-enactment of "The Act".

GETTY GRANT RECEIVED

The Arboretum has received a $3,400 grant from The Getty in support of a Multicultural Undergraduate Summer Intern program this summer for members of groups underrepresented in the professions related to museums and visual arts: individuals of African American, Asian, Latino/Hispanic, Native American, and Pacific Islander descent. The intern will work primarily on inventorying the orchid collection and interpretive signage.

We Thank You for Your Service & Dedication!

Volunteerism is a remarkable American phenomenon and is no more strongly evident than among the members of Los Vols, The Arboretum's volunteer organization. Los Vols began in 1966, with 18 members, and was formally organized in the spring of 1967. Today, over 300 men and women bring their passion and commitment to volunteer service at The Arboretum, contributing over 30,000 hours of unpaid service each year to support The Arboretum's mission and staff. The hours they contribute are equivalent to the work of 15 full-time employees.

Members of Los Vols can be seen leading third through sixth graders on school field tours in both California History and Environmental Studies, and conducting walking tours for visitors who want a more in depth visit to The Arboretum.

Los Vols members Whilma Holcombe, Peggy Ulbrich and Hiroko Fujioka plant perennial hanging baskets for Baldwin Bonanza.

Others serve as guides in the Tropical Greenhouse, staff the historic 1890 Santa Anita Depot greeting visitors and giving informal tours of the office and living quarters, or assist in the maintenance and preservation of the historical buildings and furnishings at The Arboretum.

Los Vols with artistic talent create craft items for sale in the Gift Shop and flower arrangements for the Peacock Café, Sunset Demonstration Gardens and the Queen Anne Cottage.

Under staff supervision, others assist in propagating, potting and preparing plants for public display and sale, tend the gardens of the Hugo Reid Adobe courtyard and in front of the Queen Anne Cottage and assist in the care of the Rose, Kallam, and Water Conservation Gardens. The "Garden for All Seasons" was designed and is maintained entirely by volunteers and in the Education Greenhouse they maintain succulents and other plants that they use in making wreaths and planter baskets for sale in the Gift Shop.

They process and mount plant specimens, record and file taxonomic information, document the location and tag plants on the Arboretum grounds, and field telephone inquires about plant problems.

Still others assist the staff librarian, work in the rotunda providing general assistance to visitors, take The Arboretum to the public via their speakers bureau and slide talks offered free of charge to groups and civic organizations and help make Arboretum visitors feel welcome at all garden events.

Many have been long-time friends of The Arboretum through their service in Los Vols. Current active members who have donated 20 or more years of service to The Arboretum are:

Current sustaining members who achieved milestones before moving from "Active" to "Sustaining" volunteer status are Peg Dorr, Eileen Hume, Mary McBroom and Phyllis Soza with 25 years and Rosemary Palfrey and Betty Sheld with 20 years of service.

It is evident that the work of every one of our Los Vols members is vital to keeping The Arboretum a place for all to enjoy. We sincerely thank all of our dedicated friends.

Welcome Marc Hall

On your next visit to The Arboretum, stop by the Gift Shop and say hello to Marc Hall, our new Gift Shop Manager.

Marc, a Southern California native, brings with him a wealth of experience absolutely perfect for his new position. He developed his love for gardening in the family tomato and strawberry patch. As a teenager, he collected cactus and raised orchids in his homemade greenhouse. In high school, he attended Regional Occupational Program horticulture classes where he studied plant identification and propagation.

At Chaffey College, Marc earned an A.S. degree, majoring in Botany and Zoology. He attended California State Polytechnic University at Pomona and received his BS in Horticulture with an emphasis in Nursery Management. Marc has worked five years in wholesale nurseries and 10 years for Armstrong Garden Centers. Marc is also a California State Certified Nurseryman.

Marc and his wife, Kathryn, live in a historic home (1898) in Claremont, CA. They tend a large cottage garden, which features roses, herbs, perennials and food crops.

What's in Bloom?

June & July

The following plants will be in bloom over the next few months:

CASSIA LEPTOPHYLLA (Gold Medallion tree)—Many specimens burst into a bright-gold cacophony of color. This Arboretum introduction is native to Brazil.

HIBISCUS—Now in full bloom. There are 112 specimens at The Arboretum representing nine species and many different varieties.

BRACHYCHITON DISCOLOR (Queensland Lacebark)—has velvety, pink, bell-shaped flowers that litter the ground. Most of the nine specimens at The Arboretum are located in the Australian section.

HYMENOSPORUM FLAVUM (Sweetshade)—Known by its intoxicating fragrance. Australian section.

GARDENIA THUNBERGIA—Fragrant long tubed flowers: African Section and next to Meyberg Falls.

KOELREUTERIA PANICULATA (Goldenrain Tree)—Yellow flower clusters; Asiatic Section.

LAGERSTROEMIA (Crape Myrtle)— A small, multi-trunked tree covered with large clusters of crimson, magenta, lavender, bright pink, or white flowers.. North of Tropical Forest.

COMBRETUM FRUTICOSUM (Chameleon vine)— Spectacular brush-like flowers which turn from greenish-yellow to orange. Found on the Nursery fence and in the Tropical Forest exhibit.

KOELREUTERIA BIPINNATA (Chinese flame tree)—Located near the Peacock Cafe and the base of Tallac Knoll.
